Observations..

By UDELL

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors and City Council opened to the public this week, a discussion was held on the distribution of the 2000 feet of the material from the old bridge that is to be sold to the County by the State, for a nominal sum. The meeting was recessed until the Clerk of Courts could contact John D. Smith, Highway Commissioner, who was unable to attend as originally planned. . . . Mitchell, by means of phone message, confirmed that of the 2000 feet, all of the piling and one-third of the lumber will be sold to Hancock County for a nominal sum. . . . The meeting will be resumed Monday morning at the Courthouse when plans for the distribution of the material will be made. The bridge will be demolished according to contract. . . .

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a letter from Elliott Hebert of the TIMES-PIAYUNE saying that the pictures of the new bridge would appear in this Sunday's TIMES-PIAYUNE, June 28, in the Dixie Roto Section. . . . This is the type of publicity we want and need. . . . Last Sunday, this same section carried an article by Joy Jackson on the better light program in schools sponsored by the Coast Electric Power Association. . . . In the story Miss Jackson states "Their community spirit was part of a campaign for better light in schools. The idea is sponsored each year by the Coast Electric Power Association at Bay St. Louis. . . . A rural electric co-operators, owned and operated by the people who are our members," Miss Webb says. "If we can save their eyesight and their money at the same time, we're satisfied." . . .

Our local Health Department reports that since June 1, we have had two cases of polio—one a boy 10 years of age, now in the polio hospital at Vicksburg; the other a six weeks old boy now being treated at the Memorial hospital, Gulfport. . . . They have had many phone calls for polio gamma globulin, and wish to state there are two preparations made from blood—one is for the control of measles and hepatitis and is not good for polio; the other preparation is made from pooled blood and is tested to determine whether or not this preparation holds polio antibodies and is used not to prevent polio, but to control the paralysis following the infection. The supply of this preparation is extremely limited and cannot be used except on contacts in the immediate family where the case occurs. . . . Your local Health Department has only 10 doses of this preparation to meet emergencies and it will be distributed only through the local physicians. For your information next week you will find a copy of letter from our State Epidemiologist explaining in detail how the serum is to be used. . . .

Whatever adjustments may be needed in cotton and other crop acreage in the near future, livestock trends indicate a continuing strong demand for feed. This, in the opinion of Fitzhugh Lee, Chairman of the Hancock County Production and Marketing Administration Committee, is the conclusion that may be drawn from a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture report on livestock trends.

The report indicates that, based on past cycles, the current upswing in cattle numbers which started in 1949 still has some time to go. In the five similar cycles since 1880 each upswing has continued from 6 to 8 years. If the current cycle runs 6 years, cattle numbers will reach a peak in 1955.

The report shows that in the past 80 years the trend in cattle numbers had been upward, from around 30 million head in 1870 to nearly 94 million head on January 1 of this year.

Even though hog numbers are currently down somewhat, this is more than offset by the increase in cattle. And this, as the chairman interprets it, means a con-

SOIL CONSERVATION REPORT

By ERNEST D. RIVERS
Area Soil Scientist, Soil Conservation Service

The fishermen have been eagerly awaiting the time when the overflow water would return to the stream banks and get clear enough for the fish to start biting. Their concern has been now long will it be before the water will be clear enough to let them go fishing. They have given little thought to why the water is too muddy to go fishing. The farmers and leaders of our country are concerned about the reason why the water is muddy after every rain. And their concern is not just because it interferes with fishing. They know the reason for the muddy streams is that each rain washes soil out of the fields.

Continuing increase in the need for feed with emphasis on pasture, range, concentrates and fattening feeds. He suggests that the livestock situation may well be an important consideration in cotton production adjustment plans for the immediate future and plans made now for every possible use of PMA assistance in meeting forthcoming needs.

which are not protected by good conservation practices. The farmer is concerned because he notices that the gully in the field back of the barn grows deeper and eats further back into the field with each rain. He also notices that the bald spot in the field on the back of the barn is growing larger each year. It is the soil washed from this gully and bald spot that makes the cracks and rivers muddy. The leaders of our nation are concerned because they see many acres of fertile land flow down our streams each year. They see our total productive areas decrease as our total population increases. Thus the farmer sees he must do something to control the gully and bald spot or so much of his land will be washed away that he will not be able to make a living on his farm. And the leaders of our nation foresee the time when we will be unable to feed the people of our nation if our productive soil continues to decrease in acreage each year. This both the farmers and the leaders of our nation realize that the time has come when we must protect our soil if our nation is to remain at and of plenty. The Soil Conservation Districts, which are controlled by the local farmers, are furnished Soil Conservation Districts, which are controlled by the local farmers, are furnished Soil Conservation technicians to help keep the soil in the fields and stop it from flowing down our streams after every rain.

The soil which washes into the creeks and rivers is removed from the fields by the process known as erosion. The erosion occurs in two main forms but it is seldom noticed before much damage has occurred because of the loss of soil from the field. The most easily noticed form is gully erosion. The gully is a ditch cut by the rain water as it flows down the hill. The other form of erosion is known as sheet erosion and is not easily noticed until a bald spot shows up in the field. This spot is usually of a different color from the rest of the field and the plants are dwarfed (midget type) and bear little or no crops. Erosion is caused by the movement of the rain water as it flows across the fields. If there is nothing to interfere with the flow of the water, it moves as a solid sheet of uniform depth. As it moves along it picks up some of the soil and carries it out of the field or deposits it at the foot of the hill. A layer of soil is removed from the entire field each time enough rain falls to run off the field. This is a dangerous form of erosion because it is seldom noticed before so much of the soil has washed away that the crop yields are greatly reduced. Frequently crop yields grow smaller in succeeding years, even though more fertilizer is applied to the field. The yield is reduced because the productivity of the soil is lowered each time soil is washed out of the field. Many times the first indications of sheet erosion shows up as a spot which is different in color from the rest of the field. The crops grown here are small midget plants and produce little or no crops. When not controlled, this area grows larger each year and the crop production is reduced more and more.

As long as the rain water flows as a solid sheet of uniform depth, across the field the soil loss is in the form of sheet and covers the entire field. If the runoff water collects and forms a small stream as it flows down the hill the soil loss is not uniform. The soil washes faster where the water collects and flows deeper as it moves down the hill. If this uneven movement is not stopped a ditch or gully is soon formed. The gully grows deeper and eats further up the hill each time a rain falls. Thus the field grows smaller each year.

The farmers are beginning to realize that the loss of soil because of erosion can be prevented only if proper conservation measures are taken to slow up the rain water as it flows across the field. Terracing is one of the many measures used to control erosion. Mr. Aquilla McCordie of Carnes community, a cooperator of the Forrest County Soil Conservation District, recognizes the fact that terraces do control erosion. Mr. McCordie states, "I am really proud of my terraces. I had already decided if something wasn't done to stop my land from washing away, I soon wouldn't have any land that would produce me anything."

The Soil Conservation Service technicians are trained to help the farmers know how to slow up the movement of the rain water and protect the fields against erosion. These technicians make specific recommendations for each individual farm on which they work.

Scharff to Leave For Northwestern

Three high school students from Mississippi will be among the 268 students from 39 states who have registered for the 1953 session of the National High School Institute at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois.

Since its inception in 1930, the Institute has become well-known throughout the nation. For five weeks, beginning June 28, outstanding high school juniors and seniors are given an insight into University life through the program of the Institute. The program is presented through four divisions - journalism, speech, engineering, and music. Dubbed "the Cherubs," the youngsters go through intensive training in their respective fields. All work is under the guidance of the regular University faculty, and all University facilities are available.

The students live in dormitories on the campus. Monday through Friday, they attend morning and afternoon classes combining extensive laboratory work and practical experience. They also participate in trips and group events utilizing the cultural resources of the Chicago metropolitan area. Trips are made to museums, theaters, broadcasting studios, concerts and other places of interest.

In addition, students in the journalism division edit an Institute newspaper, and students in the dramatics division take part in plays and attend productions of the University Theatre.

Admission to the Institute has become a coveted goal throughout the United States. Full and half-tuition scholarships are available for many students who would be otherwise unable to attend.

FORESTRY NEWS

By JACK STEWART,
Area Forester

THIN YOUR PINES

There are several reasons why your plantation needs thinning, but the main one is that you planted more trees than can grow to maturity. If you don't take some of them out, growth will slow down and many trees will die.

It is the same with any crop where you plant more than you need. Take corn, for example; you plant several seeds to the hill, with the hope that at least one will sprout. In most cases, two or three sprout, and soon begin competing for growing room. While sprouts are still small and before growth slows down, you can chop out all but a couple of the best in each hill. This gives plenty of growing room and, with a good season, assures a fine crop.

Pine trees are much the same. You plant about 1,000 to the acre with the idea of harvesting 100 or 200 trees as sawtimber. You plant enough so that you will have a full stand even though some trees die.

Some trees grow faster than others. In ten or fifteen years, some will be three or four inches more in diameter than others.

At about this time they begin to crowd. So you thin your pines for the same reason you chop corn to pick the largest and best trees for the final crop, to keep them growing fast, and to grow more and better timber in less time.

Trees are a long time crop as compared with corn. Corn needs only thinning, these need several to keep them growing at their best. We are talking here about the first, or post thinning. It is the important first step toward plantation management. It gets your stand in good condition so it can produce the most pulpwood and sawtimber in the shortest time.

See your Forester, Jack Stewart, for advice and assistance in thinning operations.

Ratliff-Clark Nuptials

A recent wedding in Jackson which was of interest to many Gulfport and Bay Saint Louis friends was that of Miss Valda Katrina Clark, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Clyde C. Clark, and Lt. Charles Francis Radcliffe, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ratcliffe, Sr. of Mobile, Ala., which took place at 4:00 in the afternoon at Galloway Memorial Methodist Church. The altar was decorated with ferns, baskets of gladioli and candelabra holding tall white tapers. The Rev. Clark, father of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Mary Taylor Sandefur, organist, presented a program of nuptial music and Ben Trotter was soloist. The bride, given in marriage by her brother, the Rev. Roy C. Clark of Forest, wore a cathedral length gown of white tulle and a petticoat of lace which featured a little jacket of lace with wrist tipped sleeves. The bouquet of tulle over satin had an overlap of lace. Her veil of French illusion fell from a small bonnet of lace trimmed in pearls. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a purple throated white wing orchid. Her only ornament was a pair of earrings of matched pearls, gift of the groom.

Miss Sarah Frances Clark, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and the maids were Misses Peggy Day and Catherine Roll of Natchez, with little Lynn Clark, niece of the bride serving as a junior bridesmaid. They wore shades of pale green and lemon yellow nylon net over tulle, and carried lavender asters with bandage of net and the same flowers in their hair.

Charles F. Radcliffe Sr. served as his son's best man and the groomsmen were Robert McNeely, Kurtz Stowers and Lester Browning, all of Natchez, Johnny Lewis was a junior groomsman.

Immediately following the ceremony the parents of the bride honored the couple with a reception where Mrs. Paul Arrington and Mrs. J. Morgan Stevens Jr. presented the guests to the receiving line. Miss Olga Vaughn of Picayune presided at the guest register and Misses Anita Parent and Dunbar Babbitt of Natchez, served cake.

Others served punch and assisting in the dining room were Miss Barbara Stanton of Natchez, Miss Elmer Moore of Morton, Miss Deborah Stevens and Miss Jo Glen Hughes of Jackson, Mrs. Lester Browning of Natchez, and little Suellen Shultz, godchild of the bride.

The bride's going away suit was of blue Antique silk with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. After a honeymoon in the Ozarks the couple will be at home in Omaha, Neb., where Lt. Radcliffe is stationed at Offutt Air Base.

Many friends from Natchez, Mobile and Gulfport attended the wedding. Those from Bay St. Louis going were Dr. and Mrs.

J. A. Evans and Mr. and Mrs. C. McDonald. The bride's father served the Methodist churches at Bay St. Louis and Gulfport.

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Fleet operators, farmers, independent truckers—truck users everywhere—buy more Chevrolets than any other make. There can be only one reason for that: Chevrolet trucks offer more of what you want.

As the official registration figures keep rolling in, they keep telling the same positive story about truck popularity and truck value: Again in 1953, for the twelfth straight production year, truck buyers show a clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks.

If you're a truck user, this fact is mighty important to you. Why? Well, as you know, trucks are built and bought for just one reason—to do a job. So isn't it logical then that since Chevrolet trucks outsell all others, they must do a better job at lower cost?

That's why it will pay you to stop in and see us before you buy your next truck.

County Agent's Notes

by HOWARD SIMMONS

PASTURES

Two major jobs during June and all during the summer for pasture farmers are controlling weeds in pastures and preventing over grazing.

Control weeds by mowing, clipping and spraying. Do not mow close to the ground. Raise the mower or clipper blade five or six inches above the ground.

Spraying with three-fourths pound of amine 2, 4-D in 20 gallons of water per acre will kill all bitter weeds and help control many other summer weeds.

Control over-grazing by allowing enough land so that stock will not overgraze or change livestock from one area to another so that the grass and clover will have a chance to come back.

Sudan and millet can still be planted for temporary summer grazing. This will help save permanent summer pastures from overgrazing. Either plant the Sudan or millet broadcast using 30 pounds of seed per acre or plant in rows using 10 pounds per acre.

Apply 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre in rows or broadcast - just as you planted the seed. If phosphate and potash are needed, use 500 pounds of mixed fertilizer and an additional 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

White clover Seed Harvest is under way. Now is a good time to check and see if yours is ready to harvest. Cut the clover down where around 75 percent of the seed heads are dark brown. Leave it in the swath to dry. This usually takes three or four days. So let your clover cure until the seed can be easily rubbed out of the heads.

POULTRY

Do not have a lot of "free boarders" in your laying flock. It won't pay to carry these through a long moult. It is easy to tell if a hen is laying.

Go through your laying house and look the birds over. Non-laying birds will have a small shriveled abdomen, small dry vent, little space between the pelvis and keel bones. The comb will be pale and shiveled and look scaly. The legs will contain a lot of yellow pigment.

Remember, birds that begin to moult early, usually are long moulters. Late moulters are usually the best layers.

DEADLINES

Final dates for filing applications for certifications of soybeans, cotton, lespedeza, open-pollinated corn, sorghos, and rice is July 15. Farmers are advised not to delay.

Varieties eligible for certification are: Soybeans - Ogden strains, Dorchosy 31, Rorthosy 67, Roanoke, Dorman and N47-3479. Only

A PACKED SUPREME COURT

Back in the early days of the New Deal the "little President" Franklin D. Roosevelt set out to pack the Supreme Court. He requested Congressional authority to increase the number of Judges on the Court. His purpose was to have a Court with a majority who favored his New Deal philosophy. In this way he hoped to obtain many of his objectives indirectly, which Congress had refused to grant him directly. There was a great hue and cry from all over the country against this proposal. Result: Congress denied the authority. However, Providence granted Roosevelt and Truman what Congress denied. There were a number of deaths, and resignations from the Court. Then came the appointment of the so-called Liberalists - Frankfurter, Black, Minton, Jackson, Vinson, Clark, and Douglas.

CHANGED PHILOSOPHY

The net result was a Court with a membership of "liberal" philosophy. This in turn has resulted in the achievement of the objectives sought. Many proposals of that philosophy which the elected representatives of the people in the Congress refused to go along with have been written into the law of the land by the decisions of the all-powerful Supreme Court. Some of the outstanding of these have been in the field of racial relations - the breaking down of segregation in dining and pullman cars, colleges and universities, and more recently segregation in the restaurants and other public eating places in the District of Columbia. Also the reversal of the deportation of the notorious Communist, Harry Bridges, whom the House of Representatives on two or more occasions ordered deported. The most recent and widely publicized action has come in the case of the atomic spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. Here one of the most liberal of the so-called Liberal members of the Court, Justice Douglas, saw fit to grant a stay of execution to these condemned spies even after he and his colleagues of the whole court had twice refused to intervene. The next revolutionary action, no doubt, on the part of this packed Court will come in a decision to outlaw segregation in the public schools of the land.

IMPEACHMENT
A large segment of the American population feeling outraged by the action of Justice Douglas applauded the action of Congressman Don Wheeler of Georgia when he introduced an impeachment resolution in the House of Representatives. Under the Constitution of these United States impeachment proceedings must originate in the House of Representatives. If the House votes impeachment the case is then tried in the Senate, that body sitting in judgment as he court and jury. However, in this case regardless of what public opinion may be it is very doubtful that impeachment will be voted. It would appear that regardless of the merits of the action taken by Justice Douglas, whether such action was wise or unwise, he was acting within his legal discretion. In fact, Chief Justice Vinson so announced.

RESOLUTION FOR THE ISSUANCE OF $14,000.00 BONDS FOR LOGTOWN CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL DISTRICT

The following resolution was introduced by Supervisor Jones and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, there has been presented to this Board a Petition signed by a majority of the qualified electors residing in the Logtown School District of Hancock County, Mississippi, requesting the issuance of $14,000.00 of bonds for the purpose of providing funds to erect and equip a combination auditorium and gymnasium; and

Whereas, this Board has examined said Petition and checked the number of qualified electors in said Logtown School District and also checked the amount of the qualified electors signing said

Petition and do find that a majority of the qualified electors residing in the Logtown School District have signed said petition and

Whereas, under Chapter 221, Mississippi Laws of 1950, provides that no election is necessary when a majority of the qualified electors have signed a Petition; and

Whereas said Petition does not request an election, and this Board believes that said bonds should be issued for the Logtown School District for the purpose of erecting and equipping a combination auditorium and gymnasium; and

Whereas, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, does now find and determine that the assessed valuation of the taxable property, as ascertained by last complete assessment for taxation is over $300,000.00 within the said School District, as shown by certified statements of the County Superintendent of Education of Hancock County, Mississippi, and now on file with this Board; and that the total outstanding indebtedness of the Logtown School District, both bonded and floating is $6,000.00; and that this bond issue of four thousand ($4,000.00) dollars, when added to the existing indebtedness, will make a total outstanding indebtedness, including both bonded and floating, of the school district, for school purposes, of twenty thousand ($20,000.00), which indebtedness the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, finds to be less than fifteen (15) per cent of the assessed valuation of taxable property of the school district as assessed by the last complete assessment for taxation and the Board of Supervisors finds and determines that the amount of this indebtedness, both bonded and floating, of said school district for school purposes does not exceed fifteen (15) per cent of the assessed valuation of taxable property of said school district as ascertained by the last complete assessment for taxation, including any indebtedness that may have been incurred by said school district or other school district or districts; and

Whereas, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County does now find and determine that it is necessary for funds to be provided for the purposes aforesaid and that no funds are available for such purposes except by the issuance of bonds for said school district, it is therefore,

Resolved and Ordered by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, as follows: Section 1. Highway 90, now under construction, thence in a westerly direction along a line parallel with the said northern boundary of the said highway right of way, to a point 1000 feet distant from Front Street or North Beach Boulevard, measured at right angles to said street or boulevard; thence northerly and north-westerly, parallel to and always 1000 feet from said Front Street or North Beach Boulevard, to the corporation line of the City of Bay Saint Louis, being the range line between Ranges 14 and 13 West; thence North along said range line to the first channel in the Bay of Saint Louis; thence following said channel, easterly and southerly, to the place of beginning, (excepting therefrom the land lying between a line 139 feet North of the north margin of Uman Avenue and a line 127 feet south of the south margin of Uman Avenue.)

SECTION 1: Be it Ordained by the Mayor and Board of Commissioners of the City of Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, That said Mayor and Board of Commissioners find and adjudge that said City of Bay Saint Louis is a municipality existing in Hancock County, Mississippi, having a population in excess of 1000 inhabitants, and that said Mayor and Board of Commissioners constitute the legislative body of said municipality and are empowered under the provisions of the Laws of Mississippi including Title 16 of the Mississippi Code of 1952, to regulate the height, number of stories and size of buildings and other structures; the percentage of lot that may be occupied; the size of yards, courts and other open spaces; the density of population and the location and use of buildings, structures and land for trade, industry, residence or other purposes; and that it is necessary and to the best interest of said in order to lessen congestion in the streets; to secure safety from fire, panic and other dangers; to provide adequate light and air; to prevent the over-crowding of land; to avoid undue concentration of population; to facilitate the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewerage, schools, parks and other requirements, and having consideration, among other things, of the character of the district and its peculiar suitability for particular uses, and with a view to conserving the value of buildings and property, and encouraging the most appropriate use of land throughout such municipality; that the authority in said Mayor and Board of Commissioners under said laws of Mississippi, including Title 16 of the Mississippi Code of 1952, be exercised and enforced as to the area within the corporate limits of said municipality hereinafter described and that the use and conditions of use and occupancy of land for trade, industry, residence, and other purposes within such area be regulated within said area.

The Mayor and Board of Commissioners further find and adjudge that the area hereinafter described is one of the two largest and most exclusive residential sections of the City of Bay Saint Louis; that a new highway bridge across the Bay of Saint Louis (which forms part of U. S. Highway No. 90, the most important highway serving said City), is being constructed in said area at near completion and has called to the attention of the Mayor and Board of Commissioners that certain persons are planning to build and operate commercial ventures in said area, which if permitted, will be highly detrimental to the best interests of said city and especially of the area hereinafter described. The Mayor and Board of Commissioners further find and adjudge that the adoption of a comprehensive zoning ordinance for all said city is under consideration by said Mayor and Board of Commissioners but considerable delay must necessarily be incurred before the same can be finally enacted, and that if the zoning regulations contained in this ordinance are not or posted (except for rent or for sale) and/or the construction and erection by the City of Bay Saint Louis of any sign, which advertises the said City and prohibiting the operation for tourists, transients or the public generally, directly or indirectly, a parking space for hire, in the area within said City described as follows:

SECTION 2: That it shall be unlawful, upon any lot or piece of ground within the boundaries of the area hereinafter set forth, to erect, construct, reconstruct, enlarge any filling station, tourist camp, or any building or structure to be used for any business, trade, industry, or commerce or to conduct any such business, trade, industry, or commerce in any building or structure so constructed; or to place, erect or construct, or cause to be placed, erected or constructed, any sign, billboard or poster (except for rent or for sale signs) and/or the construction and erection by the City of Bay Saint Louis of any sign which advertises the said City and prohibiting the operation for tourists, transients or the public generally, directly or indirectly, a parking space for hire, in the area within said City described as follows:

Beginning at the point where a continuation of the line between Lots Nos. 391 and 436 of the First Ward of the City of Bay Saint Louis intersects the first channel from the West shore of the Bay of Saint Louis; running thence N. 70 degrees W. to the North East corner of Lot No. 1 of Beach Front Subdivision, said lot being owned by Geraldine Ames et al. thence Southerly along the western line of Front Street or North Boulevard to the northern line of deMontluzin Avenue; thence Westerly along said line of said avenue to the eastern line of Second St. thence northerly along the eastern line of Second Street to a point 100 feet North of the Northern line of U. S. Highway 90, now under construction, thence in a westerly direction along a line parallel with the said northern boundary of the said highway right of way, to a point 1000 feet distant from Front Street or North Beach Boulevard, measured at right angles to said street or boulevard; thence northerly and north-westerly, parallel to and always 1000 feet from said Front Street or North Beach Boulevard, to the corporation line of the City of Bay Saint Louis, being the range line between Ranges 14 and 13 West; thence North along said range line to the first channel in the Bay of Saint Louis; thence following said channel, easterly and southerly, to the place of beginning, (excepting therefrom the land lying between a line 139 feet North of the north margin of Uman Avenue and a line 127 feet south of the south margin of Uman Avenue.)

SECTION 3: That in the area above described, no building or structure shall be erected or constructed to be used for any business, trade, industry or commerce, nor shall any business, trade, industry or commercial undertaking of any kind or character be conducted at any place within said district, between the east margin of Beach Boulevard or Front Street and the water's edge of the Bay of Saint Louis or erected, constructed or operated in the Bay of Saint Louis, opposite said area.
